Food Resources Near You - 44146

Please note:

Call ahead: You will need to know when the pantry is open for service and what documents you need to receive food. They can also tell you if there are specific requirements for their program. You should also verify that you are in their service area.

Get there early: Pantries work on a first-come, first-served basis, so arriving early is a way of assuring shorter lines and getting enough food.

Bring a car with an empty trunk, some bags and/or a cart: Pantries recommend clearing space in your trunk before going, as many will place the food boxes in there as a contact-free measure. You may also want some bags and/or a cart to help take your food home.

Expect to be treated with dignity and respect: All food bank partner pantry staff/volunteers are held to a high standard under Civil Rights Training guidelines. If you would like to share feedback about your experience, please call 216-738-2067.

Call us if you need more information: Our lists are updated each month, call for an updated list when you need it! 216-738-2067

Mobile Pantries, also known as Produce Distributions: These events are always open to anyone!
